2019 Suisun Valley Rodriguez Vineyard Old Vines Valdeguié Rosé

Vineyards & Winemaking

Coming from 50-year-old vines, our single vineyard Rosé is inspired by the Languedoc-Roussillon region of southern France. Valdeguié, grown in that region, is generally known by the alias Gros Auxerrois, however, our Valdeguié comes from Napa's back side neighbor, Suisun Valley. Valdeguié produces dark colored wines that are low in alcohol. I had a Rosé made from these old vines several years ago and I got my name on the list to get some of this fruit. This year the call finally came.

Tasting Notes

On the nose the dried strawberry screams at you, along with wet stone. When you get to the palate you find flavors of berries, stone fruit watermelon and a mineral texture. This wine is both dry and round and the intense fruit flavors add a degree of character and creaminess that can be elusive in a Rosé
